

Youth Sought in Slaying of 4 Caught

FORT SMITH, Ark. (AP) — Connecticut authorities arrived in Arkansas late Monday night to begin extradition proceedings against a 17-year-old honor student who was wanted on a charge of murder in the slaying of four members of his family in New Canaan, Conn.

Two Connecticut State Police-men and a New Canaan policeman arrived at the Little Rock airport and were to spend the night in Little Rock before driving the 156 miles to Fort Smith early today to question John Rice Jr. about the slayings.

Rice walked into the Fort Smith police station Monday and told desk officers he was from Connecticut and did not know how he got to Arkansas or why he came here.

Police Chief Carl Beyer said Rice had not been informed of the charges and officers had said nothing to the boy about his family.

"We didn't want to jeopardize Connecticut's case against him, if he has one," Beyer said.

Rice, an honor student at New Canaan High School, had been the object of a nationwide search following the slaying of his mother, sister, brother and grandmother in their New Canaan home Thursday.

A hammer, a hatchet, a dagger and neck tie were used to kill the victims, whose bodies were found by John Rice Sr.

Beyer said "two .22-caliber pistols, a shotgun and quite a bit of ammunition were found in the car, which we have taken into custody."

Beyer said Rice walked into the police station and told officers that he woke up Monday morning at a roadside rest station about 20 miles from Fort Smith and that "he didn't remember a thing prior to waking up."

Young Rice, a Boy Scout who was about to become an Eagle Scout, had been described as an expert woodsman and a crack shot with a rifle.

Police issued a murder warrant for Rice Saturday night.

The victims were Janet Rice, 44; Nancy Rice, 14; Stephen Rice, 16; and Edith Fitzpatrick, 73, who was Mrs. Rice's mother. She had come to live with the Rices about a month earlier.

Negro Called Leader of Rape Group

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — A young North Little Rock woman testified in Circuit Court here Monday that Clarence Lee Bruce, 18, of Little Rock was one of a group of Negroes who raped her on the night of May 29 on a sand bar on the Arkansas River.

Bruce is on trial for his life on charges of raping two young white women, one of whom allegedly was the witness who testified against him Monday. The prosecution was expected to call the other woman to testify today.

The woman pointed to Bruce in the courtroom Monday and said he seemed to be the leader of the group and the alleged assaults began at Bruce's signal.

Quiz Helps Sort History in The Making

Your newspaper is a "Living Textbook" of history in the making. The events you read about today will be in the history books of tomorrow.

But how can you sort out the meaningful events from those items of only passing interest? A history book does it for you, but as a newspaper reader you must do it for yourself. Taking our weekly News Quiz helps -- week after week it spotlights the most meaningful of the week's events, highlights the news personalities of lasting significance. It's fun, as well. Turn to Page 4 and try it today. Answers are on Page 3.

The News Quiz is one of the VEC Instructional Materials that are sponsored by Hope Star as part of its Living Textbook Program for participating area schools.

Prosecution Finished in Pruitt Case

CONWAY, Ark. (AP) — The prosecution finished most of its case Monday dealing with a four-count indictment against Robert L. Pruitt, former head cashier at State College of Arkansas here. Pruitt is on trial for allegedly embezzling $28,655 from SCA during a nine-month period in 1969.

As the trial entered its seventh day today, the state was expected to continue to try to show where Pruitt allegedly spent "some $50,000" during the 20-month period he was employed at the college.

use his political talents in selling Nixon's economic policies to the public and improving the President's relations with a Democratic Congress.

Both were acknowledged weaknesses of Kennedy, who was in disfavor with the administration's economic policymakers and wanted a less demanding job.

But whether Nixon achieved a political coup in naming Connally remains to be seen. At Sun Valley, Idaho, where Republican governors are meeting, the reaction was largely unhappy.

"It was just incredible," Gov. Francis Sargent of Massachusetts said. "Can he add? I don't mind him appointing a Democrat—but Connally?"

"I thought there were a lot of unemployed Republican governors who could have been appointed instead of an unemployed Democratic governor," said lame-duck Gov. David F. Cargo of New Mexico. "I suspect it was a political appointment and that may be the understatement of the year."

In Texas, the appointment was seen as a possible political reward for Connally's help in defeating Sen. Ralph Yarborough, a liberal, in the Democratic primary, and as a move to build votes for GOP candidates in Texas.

Yarborough said Connally got the job "to reward the party faithful." And the state's Republican national committee-man, Peter O'Donnell, said it assures Nixon of carrying Texas in 1972, and carrying GOP Sen. John Tower in with him.

Governors Surprised by Appointment

By WALTER MEARS

associated Press Writer

SUN VALLEY, Idaho (AP) — Republican governors, all of them surprised and some dismayed at the appointment of Texas Democrat John B. Connally to succeed Treasury Secretary David Kennedy, have a chance today to discuss their political complaints with Vice President Spiro T. Agnew.

Some of the 28 governors and two governors-elect at the winter conference of the National Republican Governors Association were already unhappy with President Nixon's statement that governors now "do not play an important role in presidential politics" and with administration campaign tactics this year.

Connally's appointment was quickly added to the list of complaints.

There were suggestions from governors as conservative as Don W. Samuelson of Idaho and as liberal as Gov. David F. Cargo of New Mexico that the appointment might better have gone to a Republican.

The governors, meanwhile, petitioned Nixon to talk with them about their request for a state and local share of federal tax revenues before he makes his State of the Union address.

They want $10 billion a year beginning next July 1. The governors warned of "an impending collapse of confidence in state and local government" if Washington doesn't provide immediate help.

Republican National Chairman Rogers C. B. Morton said Democrat Connally, with "his political acumen," might help push such items as revenue sharing through Congress.

That did nothing to calm critics who said privately that the President's choice of Connally seemed to signal a new kind of Southern strategy.

Ten governors at the conference will be leaving office next month and some of them would like jobs with the administration.

"I think there were a lot of unemployed Republican governors who could have been appointed instead of an unemployed Democrat," said Cargo, a lame duck who has said he is not personally interested in administration employment.

Agnew was due in Sun Valley later today to confer with the governors and address a banquet tonight.

ing his wishes anyway. Thus are lifelong cynics made.

While not in any sense decrying the custom of gift giving, one must admit that it can sometimes serve other purposes than the expression of total good will. It can subtly suggest a hidden ill will or disregard.

Why else would one woman send another woman a scarf she knows the latter wouldn't wear in public—except perhaps to the sender's funeral?

Why else does one businessman send another a bottle of scotch, when he should be well aware of the fact that the recipient drinks only bourbon?

Why else do nephews receive from aunts gaudy neckties that look as if they had been wrung through a color television set? Are all those dear old ladies that near-sighted?

And do not many wives use Christmas as a kind of marital weapon? The rest of the year a wife is very vocal—indeed, does not her voice rise like a fountain, night and a day?—about what she needs and when she wants it.

But at Christmas she claims up like the Sphinx.

"What do you really want for Christmas, honey?" asks her husband.

"I shouldn't have to tell you," she replies. "Surprise me."

There is one sure way to avoid all the confusion that presently attends Christmas shopping. That is to give everyone the thing he really wants most—cash! It comes in one size and fits every pocketbook.

Soviet Venus Shot Is Not Transmitting

LONDON (AP) — Britain's Jodrell Bank Observatory reported today that the Soviet Union's Venus 7 spacecraft was not transmitting from the surface of Venus as expected.

A spokesman said the observatory's equipment was aimed toward Venus early this morning but nothing had been received nearly seven hours later.

"We don't know what has happened," he said, but added that the Russians might have decided to delay the landing scheduled for today.

Early Soviet shots in the Venus series were fly-by experiments, but Soviet scientists reported that Venus 5 and 6 entered the atmosphere successfully in May 1969 and transmitted information. They apparently crashed or burned up, however.

Venus 7 was launched Aug. 17 with a payload of 2,600 pounds. Its equipment is presumed to include gas analyzers, heat and pressure measuring instruments, and a radio receiver and transmitter. Part of the bulk also is made up of an extra heavy shield for protection against 100 atmospheres pressure and temperatures of about 918 degrees.

Official progress reports through Nov. 18 indicated Venus 7 was functioning normally, with 85 radio contacts reported to that time. The announcement of the Venus 7 launching said it is an "improved version" of earlier Venus probes.

Tough Stand on Rights of Defendants

By BARRY SCHWEID

Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) —

Helped by Harry Blackmun, the newest justice, the Supreme Court took a tougher stand today on the rights of defendants in state criminal trials.

In a 5-4 ruling, the court upheld the murder conviction of a Georgia man even though he did not have a chance to cross-examine an alleged co-conspirator whose testimony linked him to the crime.

The decision split the justices along conservative-liberal lines and indicated that Blackmun's elevation to the bench by President Nixon produced a conservative majority.

The four dissenters, left over the old liberal majority of the Warren court that produced 5-4 rulings going the other way, complained that the decision is "completely inconsistent with recent opinions of this court." They said the defendant's rights had been clearly violated and that he was entitled to a new trial without use of the damaging testimony.

The case involves the first-degree murder conviction of Alex S. Evans in the 1965 slaying of Gwinnett County police officer Jerry Everett. The dispute was over the use of a single sentence of testimony.

Lynwood W. Shaw, a prosecution witness, was permitted to tell the jury what he claimed he had heard from a fellow prisoner who also had been indicted in the crime. According to Shaw, the prisoner, Venson Williams, had told him: "If it hadn't been

Bob Hope to Make 20th Yule Tour

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — With White House best wishes and an $8,000 check from teetotaling women, comedian Bob Hope began his 20th annual Christmas tour to American servicemen abroad.

Hope and his 87-member troupe, including actress Ursula Andress, Cincinnati Reds baseball star Johnny Bench and Miss World Jennifer Hosten, embarked Monday from suburban Van Nuys in a C141 military transport.

"I hope it's the last time I get to Vietnam and I think it will be," said Hope, veteran of seven straight Christmases in the Vietnam war zone. He will also entertain troops in England, West Germany, the 6th Fleet in the Mediterranean, Thailand, Korea and Alaska.

The millionaire entertainer received a huge Christmas card signed by President Nixon, Vice President Spiro T. Agnew, all members of Congress and 50 governors.

The Women's Christian Temperance Union sent a check "to buy the boys soft drinks."

Russia Steps Up Pilot Training

By FRED S. HOFFMAN

AP Military Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Soviet Union is increasing its supply of military pilots in a move linked chiefly to the Russian-Chinese feud, U.S. military intelligence reports.

During the past year, Pentagon experts say, the Soviet opened two new military pilots schools at Stavropol and Saratov.

At the same time, they say the Soviets reopened the Boras Oglebsk higher military aviation school, which was shut down in the late 1950s when Russian pilot training was curtailed because of emphasis on missiles.

Fitting into the pattern, intelligence specialists believe, is the apparent shortening, by four or five months, the customary four-year Soviet pilot training course.

Some of the Soviet expansion may involve output of more helicopter pilots, suggesting the Russians have taken note of widespread and successful U.S. use of choppers in Vietnam.

The quality of Soviet jet pilots is regarded as high.

However, unlike the United States, the Soviet air force has not fought in more than 25 years except for a reported dogfight with Israeli jets over the Suez Canal area earlier this year. The Russians are said to have taken some losses in that scrap against experienced Israeli pilots.

Tuesday, December 15, 1970

North Vietnamese pilots were trained in Russian schools and, toward the end of the U.S. bombing campaign in 1968, were fighting U.S. pilots on nearly even terms.

Although the American analysts indicated the growth of the Soviet pilot training program was related to the problem with China and the resultant buildup of Russian forces along the border, they said the Mideast situation also is involved.

In increasing aid to the Arabs, the American authorities said, the Russians have stretched their pilot resources by sending units, advisers and instructors to Egypt and some of her allies.

Christmas Party At Hempstead Nursing Home

Perhaps the loveliest and most rewarding of all the Christmas parties so far this season was the one held Saturday, December 12th at the Hempstead County Memorial Nursing Home.

The entire visiting-dining area was beautifully decorated and while the patients were assembling Mrs. Carter Russell played appropriate holiday music on the piano.

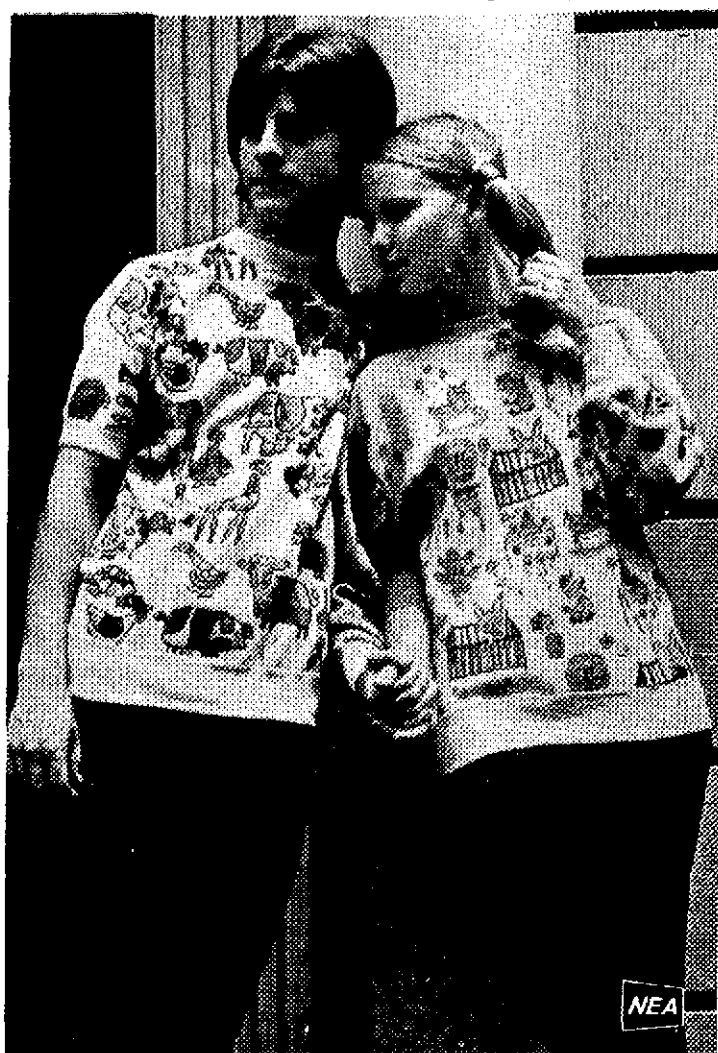

Approximately 25 Auxiliary members dispensed hospitality, assisted by Mrs. Booker and some of her nursing staff. Refreshments consisted of delicious cup cakes, punch, candy canes and all kinds of fruit and nuts.

Santa had placed a gift under the tree for each patient and it was really difficult to determine who enjoyed the party most—the patients—the Auxiliary members—the nurses.

Christmas Party At Coffield's

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Coffield entertained friends at their home Sunday night after church with a Christmas Buffet. Those attending were Mr. and Mrs. Jewel Steele, Sr., Mr. and Mrs. B. M. Hazzard, Mr. and Mrs. Ivy Mitchell, Mr. and Mrs. Wade Warren, and Miss Kim Calhoun.

HELEN HELP US!

by Helen Bottel

FORMER "DOPE FIEND". SPEAKS OUT

Dear Helen:

I'd like to set people straight on a few myths about hard dope. This is from the horse's mouth — and I do mean "horse." I shot up for two years, quit, got hooked again, did time, finally got straight at "The Family," our State Hospital voluntary drug-help house, where I learned to live with my hangups. We called ourselves "dope fiends" there and we didn't waste time crying over our poor little pitiful weaknesses.

First myth: A heroin addict suffers almost unbearable torture, kicking the habit.

Fact: Getting off the stuff is no rougher than a bad case of 24-hour intestinal flu. Most junkies are cowards. They also play a good scene. So the myth grows: You can't stop because it hurts too much. If a guy loses his connection and starts to sweat, he imagines all those horrors he's seen in the movies, and fear makes a few of them come true. Or else he pays double (usually all had fun. They met later for choir practice for their Christmas program.

Music Club Meets

The Origin and Development of Christmas Music was the program topic which Mrs. Paul Henley used for the Friday Music Club meeting December 11 in the home of Mrs. Lloyd Hendrix with Mrs. Charles Batson and Mrs. B. W. Edwards, co-hostesses.

Accompanying herself on the guitar, Mrs. Henley sang a number of pretty but unfamiliar Christmas songs that included ballads, a spiritual, lullabies, an English Christmas song, an American carol, and an ancient Latin carol. Then the entire group, accompanied at the piano by Miss Juanita Nicholson, sang several examples of folk songs for Christmas which Mrs. Henley had prepared.

Mrs. Helen Hatch, president, welcomed two new members, Mrs. Charles Snowden and Miss Nicholson. A formal vote was taken to make several proposed changes in the club's Constitution. It was announced that the Hope High School Choir, directed by Miss Nicholson, will have a Christmas program at 6:15 p.m. Wednesday, December 16 at the First Presbyterian Church, and the public is invited.

As the 20 arrived at the meeting, they were served a Christmas salad, cookies, and spiced tea or coffee from a dining table which had been covered with a green lace cloth and centered with Christmas elves and holly. Elsewhere, candles and greenery were seen.

The meeting was concluded with the Hymn of the Month which Mrs. Garland Medders explained. All joined in singing it, "O Come All Ye Faithful," with Mrs. B. C. Hyatt at the piano.

steals double) to get another fix. I wonder if the pusher hasn't built this exaggerated "pain" fiction to help business? And writers, reporters, etc. carry it on because it makes the best kind of story. (Besides, haven't they watched — and heard — withdrawal histrionics?)

Ask any HONEST doper. Your problem: Finding an honest one. Second myth: An alcoholic has an easier time drying out than a doper has withdrawing.

Fact: Drunks die after they've been brought to the hospital with DTs. Their insides are sometimes rotted away. They have no resistance to fight. A heroin addict can die from an overdose, but I don't think there's a case on record where one died of withdrawal pains.

Moreover "getting off" barbiturate addiction is more deadly than kicking heroin.

Myth: Physical dependence — the craving — brings you back to dope again.

Fact: The craving is there, true, but your hangups, more than your "appetite" bring you down again. (Or "up", on your way farther down.)

I have tried every kind of drug and dope around. I think I'm through with that now, but I can't guarantee it. When things look black, I think of that spike like a friend who will cover me with a blanket and shut out the world. But I know now that I want to live in the world, and help others live there. As they say, I'm sick and tired of being sick and tired.

I think I'll make it. — JOHN Dear Readers:

"John" IS making it. He has a part time job, attends college, and serves as a volunteer counselor in a drug-abuse center where ex-addicts help dopers become ex-addicts. — H.

Dear Helen:

I think I'll go crazy if things don't change. My father has a wild temper. He curses my mother and me in worse language than you hear in the street. He's a deacon in the church, but he thinks his meanness is justified because of "what my mother has done." She had a hard, hard life which he never lets her forget. I understand completely, but he calls her vile names and brings up her past as an excuse for beating us. He says I'll end up just like her. Helen, if he couldn't forgive, why did he marry her? Mom is a wonderful person and she's taken more than anyone should.

Often my father has wished us dead. When he's mad, he throws plates, and once ripped the dress off my back because it was "lewd." (Four inches above the knee). I've never done anything to make him hate me. I'm a "good girl" in every sense.

Maybe he's sick, but he won't see a doctor or psychiatrist. Mom is too beat down to leave him. At 16 I'm too scared to run away. What can we do? — W.G. Dear W.:

Why don't you talk to your minister? If he isn't completely fooled by his "deacon" (and ministers are more observant than you think), he may be the very one to help you. — H.

Television and Radio

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

AP Television-Radio Writer NEW YORK (AP) — "God Bless the Children," NBC's Monday night "world premiere" feature, obviously was in the studio production line at the time when "relevance" was Hollywood's favorite word and troubled youth its favorite theme.

The network executives were so impressed that they ordered six hour-long episodes spun off the central character. Under the title "the Psychiatrist," they will be the final segment of NBC's "Four in One" series starting in February.

In the pilot film, Dr. James Whitman—played by Roy Thinnes—plucks an ex-addict from his group therapy patients to work as his assistant in combating teen-age drug addiction in a small community. The two hours were really an inspection of the horrors suffered by an addict during and even after he has shaken off his dependence on drugs. It was not particularly effective television.

While the official star was Thinnes, the heavy role went to Peter Duel as the ex-addict two years away from his last fix but still an emotional cripple.

Over the seasons a number of series have had psychiatrists in central roles and not one has every really worked well. The psychiatrist's role is a passive, questioning one and while Thinnes was tense and uptight in his playing, all the action was around him.

Those Christmas specials for children which the networks pull out each year are winners in the Nielsen polls. In the ratings for the week ending Dec. 6, CBS's "A Charley Brown Christmas" and "Frosty the Snowman" were in third and fourth places. CBS's "How the Grinch Stole Christmas" was ninth and NBC's new-to-TV cartoon, "Winnie the Pooh and the Blustery Day" was 10th. NBC's "The Littlest Angel" and "Rudolph the Red-Nosed Reindeer" were 13th and 14th.

Meanwhile, ABC's "Marcus Welby M.D." continued as the ratings champ, followed by the NBC special, "Dick Van Dyke Meets Bill Cosby."

When Andy Griffith changes show horses in mid-season, his new steed will be called "The New Andy Griffith Show." This will, of course, separate him from "Headmaster," and it will also, it is hoped, distinguish the show from "Andy of Mayberry" which is the old "Andy Griffith Show" in syndicated reruns and from "Mayberry, R.F.D." which is the old "Andy Griffith Show" without Andy Griffith.

Triple Action Vaccines Developed

By FRANK CAREY
AP Science Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — American and Soviet medical researchers, working independently, have developed a promising, experimental one-shot vaccine against common measles, mumps and German measles. Early trials in children indicate the triple-action injection consisting of a special mixture of vaccines previously available against each of the diseases—is both safe and potentially effective, scientists from the two countries reported today.

Soviet researchers A.A. Smorodintsev and M.N. Nasibov, of the Leningrad Pasteur Institute, and Dr. Maurice Hilleman, an American scientist, told about the developments in separate reports prepared for an international conference on vaccines.

The conference is sponsored by the Pan American Health Organization and the World Health Organization.

The Soviet scientists said in their report, "The use of such vaccines might provide a safe basis for limiting and eradicating all these very hazardous and contagious infections."

Hilleman, of the Merck Institute for Therapeutic Research, West Point, Pa., made only brief reference to the American-developed, triple-action vaccine, in a talk Monday on a more general subject.

"Prime attention is now being given to combined live-virus vaccines, and it is of impornett as stars of the year, and Carrie Snodgrass and Flip Wilson as newcomers of the year.

tance that bivalent (double-action) or trivalent (triple-action) combinations of measles, mumps and rubella (German measles) vaccines may be given safely in a single dose without increased clinical reaction and without apparent suppression of the immune response," Hilleman said.

Hilleman is scheduled to give a detailed report later this week on initial trials of the American-developed vaccine.

In another report prepared for the conference, Dr. John J. Witte, of the Public Health Service's Communicable Disease Center, Atlanta, Ga., said the continuous decline of common measles that began with the advent of vaccine in 1963 leveled off in 1969.

"In 1970, the number of reported cases was more than double the number noted in 1969," he added.

Bobcats Are Beaten in Tournament

By BILL MOORE
Star Sports Writer

Although carrying the game down to the wire last night, the Hope Bobcats lost a hard fought game to the Smackover Buckaroos, 76-72, in the Southern State Invitational tournament.

The loss lowers Hope's record to 4-3 and they travel, along with the Ladycats, to Prescott tonight.

Hope started off with a basket by John Dudley and after Smackover had tied the score, Dudley and Parker Powell then moved the Bobcats out to an 8-2 lead, with 5:17 left in the first period.

Now trading points on almost even terms, Hope led at the end of the first period, 20-15, after Bill Rowland hit two separate charity throws within seconds of the buzzer.

Moving into the second quarter, David Briggs popped in the initial two points for Hope, but with 6:52 to go, Smackover took the lead on a shot by Johnny James. Now, falling back to as far as 10 points behind, the Bobcats tried to come back.

Four points by Powell, three by Dudley, and two by Lynn Norton were about all Hope could get, and later the first half ended with the Buckaroos leading 41-34.

Coming back out, the Bobcats played on even terms with Smackover, before some late disputed foul calls forced the downfall for Hope.

Taking the tipoff, Hope drove down the court, where Steve Harris layed two points through and Dudley, Norton, and Powell all hit the net, until Hope only trailed by two, 55-53, with 1:56 remaining in the first period. Period ended 59-55, Hope trailing.

Dudley and Ingram kept Hope even for a while, but even through a six point spree in a couple of minutes by Dudley, the Bobcats fell behind for the rest of the way, 66-65.

Two field goals by Powell and a free throw by Briggs were all Hope could get as Smackover hit two free throws and a last second layup for the victory.

Leading scorers for Hope were Dudley getting 25, Powell hitting 16, Norton scoring 14, and Briggs punching in eight, while James led Smackover with 25 points.

Bobkittens Lose, Girls Post a Win

By BILL MOORE
Star Sports Writer

Last night the Hope Kittycats stomped the Gurdon Go-Devis, 48-18, and the Bobkittens lost a 55-40, decision to the junior high boys.

In the first game the Kittycats hit the first two points on a basket by Gigi Gladney with 5:50 left. Trading points Hope held a 15 to 11 lead at the quarters end after Karlene drove in for an easy layup with only four seconds left.

Holding Gurdon to just four points in the second period Hope increased their lead to 27-15 at halftime on the shooting of Coleman and Gladney.

Gurdon took the second half tipoff but could do nothing and after Gladney and Coleman both hit jumpshots the Kittycats moved into the last quarter with a 38-17 lead.

With the reserves now in, Hope still kept scoring with Pogo Griffin and Gayle East leading the way and the defense not

Montgomery to QB Grays Dec. 28

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP)

— When the lights come up in Montgomery's Cramton Stadium for the first nighttime playing of the Blue-Gray football classic, Dec. 28 South head coach Paul Dietzel of South Carolina will be fielding a team liberally sprinkled with All-Americans.

The game is the 33rd annual meeting of college grid stars from opposite sides of the Mason-Dixon line, and one of the brighter Gray lights could well be Georgia Tech lineman Rock Perdoni, holder of berths on both The Associated Press and Look magazine's All-American teams.

Another is Tulane tailback David Ambercrombie, who last Saturday was named the most valuable player in the 1970 Liberty Bowl.

Ambercrombie scored two second half touchdowns to guide Tulane to a 17-3 victory over Colorado.

Quarterbacking chores will be handled by Arkansas' Bill Montgomery and Tommy Suggs of South Carolina.

Montgomery heads into the contest with a career offense record of 355 completions for 4,916 yards.

Offense: Tight end, Doug Hamrick of South Carolina; split end and flanker, Sammy Milner of Mississippi State; Jack Anderson of Clemson and Frank Lewis of Grambling; tackles and guards, John Mooring of Tampa, Dave Thompson of Clemson, Larry McGee of Memphis State and Richard Gardner of Georgia Tech.

Also, center, John Bomer of Memphis State; quarterback, Montgomery and Suggs; running backs, Ray Yaeger of Clemson and Ambercrombie.

Defense: Ends, Ron Wallace of Florida State; Rusty Ganas of South Carolina and Bruce James of Arkansas; linemen, Mike Walker of Tulane, Perdoni and Richard Harris of Grambling.

Also, linebackers Rich Kingren of Tulane and Dick Biddle of Duke; cornerbacks, John Cappellano of Duke and Charles Ford of Houston; safety, Bubba Hoats of Georgia Tech and Bucky Allshouse of Rice; kicker, Jack Simcsak of Virginia Tech.

MIAMI (AP) — Not even a collision with the starting gate could keep jockey Bill Hartack from his 4,000th victory.

Hartack ignored his injured side and brought Roart from last to first place at Tropical Park before tumbling from the saddle after the finish.

The victory Monday made the controversial 38-year-old jockey the fifth American in racing history to pass the 4,000 mark.

Super Bowl Decisions Come Sunday

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Brother, can you spare a dime? Or whatever kind of coin Pete Rozelle wants to flip to settle the National Football League's playoff picture.

What hath Rozelle wrought? A state of confusion in which a coin flip could send a team to the sidelines while the winner of the toss goes after the $25,000-a-man Super Bowl plum.

Only three teams—Minnesota in the National Conference Central, Baltimore in the American East and Oakland in the American West—have clinched their division titles. The other five playoff participants will be decided Sunday ... or will they?

The simplest way of explaining the mess is this: If there is a two-way deadlock either for first place in a division or the best second-place record in a conference, the first tie-breaking formula is the season's games between the two teams involved.

If they broke even or did not play each other, the next step is intradivision records for settling division races and intraconference records for determining the best second-place team. If a comparison of intradivision races still leaves a tie, then intraconference records are used. Finally, comes a coin toss.

Still alive and kicking are the New York Giants and Dallas, both 9-4, and St. Louis, 8-4-1, in the NFC East; Detroit, 9-4, in the NFC Central; San Francisco, 9-3-1, and Los Angeles, 8-4-1, in the AFC West; Miami in the AFC East; Cincinnati, 7-6, and Cleveland, 6-7, in the AFC Central and Kansas City, 7-4-2, in the AFC West.

Nine games Sunday will involve playoff contenders, with the clash in New York between Los Angeles and the Giants the only one matching two pretenders head-to-head. The other key games find Houston at Dallas, St. Louis at Washington, Green Bay at Detroit, San Francisco at Oakland, Buffalo at Miami, Boston at Cincinnati, Cleveland at Denver and Kansas City at San Diego.

Detroit's 28-23 triumph over Los Angeles Monday night boosted the Lions' hopes and dampened those of the Rams, but really did nothing to assure the winners a playoff berth or eliminate the losers.

All it means is that the Rams must win or tie Sunday to have any chance at the Super Bowl. The Giants would win any two-way tie for first in the NFC East while a St. Louis-Dallas deadlock would go to the Cardinals. The Rams would come out on top in a standoff with San Francisco in the NFC West. In the AFC Central, a Cleveland-Cincinnati tie would go to the Browns.

Victories by the Giants, Cowboys, 49ers, Dolphins and Bengals would—believe it or not—make any tie-breaking formulas unnecessary and put those teams in the playoffs, no matter what the Cards, Lions, Rams, Browns and Chiefs do.

Of course, the possibility exists for a three-way tie for first in the NFC East or second in the over-all NFC, not to mention the numerous two-way possibilities.

Does the loser get to keep the coin, Pete?

winner at Waterford Park in 1952, bruised his side and leg when Roart banged him into the gate at the start of the six furlong seventh race.

He urged the horse past everything on the homestretch, then was thrown as his side knotted up with pain after he passed under the wire.

America's other 4,000-winner jockeys are Bill Shoemaker, 6,067; Johnny Longden, 6,026; Eddie Arcaro, 4,779, and Steve Brooks, 4,447.

England's Sir Gordon Richards won more than 4,000 races in Europe.

Hartack has won the Kentucky Derby five times—a feat equalled only by Arcaro—the Peakness three times and the Belmont once.

Hartack won the national riding championship four times, scoring 155 victories in 1955, 347 in 1956, 341 in 1957 and 307 in 1960.

Hartack was taken by ambulance from the track to the weigh-in station and then went to the track infirmary. His injuries were not serious, but he did not attend a 4,000th-win presentation ceremony.

BANGKOK (AP) — Spring Queen Chi Cheng will return to Taiwan this week to marry her American coach, Vincent Reel, and will rest about six weeks because of the leg injury which stopped her in a race Sunday, Reel said today.

UCLA Still Rated Best in Nation

By KEN RAPPOPORT

Associated Press Sports Writer

One, two ... they're still doing the Rankings Shuffle with UCLA at the head of the line.

But college basketball teams just moved a couple of steps today among the Top Ten and a few put their best foot forward in the rest of the bunch.

The same faces appear in the Top Ten, headed by UCLA's indomitable Bruins, No. 1 with 33 first place votes and 712 points from sports writers and broadcasters around the country.

South Carolina, same as last week, is No. 2. The Gamecocks polled four first place ballots and 650 points—62 behind the front-runners. Last week, UCLA led by 52.

The top five spreadeagled the rest of the field. Penn picked up two places for sixth with 286 points, Notre Dame dropped one to seventh, with 283, and Southern California moved up a spot to eighth with 258.

Drake, No. 7 last week, skidded to No. 9 with 257 points and Villanova remained 10th with 192.

Rest of the Top Twenty included No. 11 Western Kentucky; No. 12 Kansas; No. 13 Indiana; No. 14 Tennessee; No. 15 Utah State; No. 16 Oregon; Florida State and New Mexico State, tied for 17th; St. Bonaventure, No. 19 and 20th-ranked North Carolina.

Army, No. 14 and Louisville, No. 20 last week, were the only Top Twenty Dropouts. They were replaced by Florida State and North Carolina.

Incredible UCLA beat U. of Pacific 100-88 and Tulane 95-75 last week to win its 124th game in the last 128.

But are the Bruins satisfied? "The press isn't as good as we had hoped for," UCLA assistant Coach Gary Cunningham told a basketball luncheon Monday.

"We can't yet contain men in the backcourt. But we'll keep working on it."

Nobody's perfect, he insisted. The Top Twenty, with first place votes in parentheses and total points on a 20-18-16-14-12-10-9-8 etc. basis:

Police Probe Shooting of Pro Player

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Police spokesmen say they are following "some pretty firm leads" in connection with the shooting of Nate Ramsey, star defensive back for the Philadelphia Eagles.

Ramsey, 29, is the National League football team's defensive captain. He was shot Monday afternoon as he walked toward a West Philadelphia tavern to meet a friend.

Police said there was no connection between the unidentified friend and the leads they were following.

Doctors said the bullet grazed a rib but apparently caused no serious internal damage. However, the player's condition was described as "serious" by a Misericordia Hospital spokesman.

Ramsey's wife, Desiree, weeping on a bench in the hospital emergency room, told newsmen the assailant "was an acquaintance, but I don't know why he did it."

Rams Dropped by Detroit in Pro Race

By BOB MYERS
Associated Press Sports Writer
LOS ANGELES (AP)—“We'll just have to get ready for the New York Giants Sunday—and hope Oakland defeats the San Francisco 49ers.”

Coach George Allen of the Rams had this observation today following their 28-23 loss to the Detroit Lions on Monday night.

The Rams are at New York Sunday and the 49ers are at Oakland as the NFL regular season campaign goes down to the wire.

The Lions, having devoured successfully San Francisco, Oakland, St. Louis and now the Rams, dropped Los Angeles a game behind San Francisco—8-4-1 to the 49ers 9-3-1—in the National Conference West.

Coach Joe Schmidt's Motor City wreckers kept themselves alive in the National Conference Central with 9-4-0 and a chance to make the playoffs. They host Green Bay Sunday.

The largest Ram turnout of the year, 79,441, packed Memorial Coliseum to see their heroes go down in the nationally televised contest.

It wasn't as close as the score indicates. Quarterback Greg Landry skillfully directed a well-balanced offense and the defense checked the Rams on two field goals through three quarters.

Roman Gabriel and the Rams came to life in the final period and threatened with 17 points.

With 3:07 remaining and trailing 21-16, Los Angeles launched a rally from its own 17. It ended abruptly when middle linebacker Mike Lucci intercepted a Gabriel pass and ran it back 12 yards.

Three plays later, following a 22-yard keeper scamper by Landry, Steve Owens, the 1969 Heisman Trophy winner, went in from the four to sew it up, 28-16.

Los Angeles did travel back 66 yards for a touchdown but at that stage it was meaningless.

The Ram coach blamed a tripping penalty called on the Rams as the key mishap. On fourth and three, Detroit had to punt from its own 25. The penalty not only advanced the ball to the Lion 40 but cost the Rams badly needed possession of the ball midway through the final quarter.

Owens got his chance when regular running back Mel Farr was injured on his second carry of the young game—15 yards—and went to the pits with a shoulder dislocation.

Schmidt said later he didn't know how long Farr would be sidelined.

Owens was more than adequate. He scored two touchdowns and gained 66 yards—which was 19 yards more than the entire Ram rushing output. Gabriel gained 323 yards via the air and threw two touchdowns passes. It was the most yards Gabe had ever gained but it went for nothing.

RUSSELLVILLE, Ark. (AP) — Arkansas Tech had five men scoring in double figures as the Wonder Boys defeated State College of Arkansas 97-89 in AIC basketball action Monday night.

Tech held a 61-56 halftime lead but SCA came on strong in the second half on the shooting of Joe Graham, T. J. Johnson and Donnie Smith, and closed the gap to two points with 4:47 left in the game. Tech began pulling away late in the game on free throws by Hankton and Coombes.

Suit Over Bowl Blackout Is Dismissed

MIAMI (AP) — The attorney's game plan called for outflanking the NFL's Super Bowl television blackout for the Miami area in federal court. But it was a busted play.

The ref charged the offense with illegal motion.

Judge Ted Cabot ruled the right of South Florida's 2.5 million inhabitants to watch a live broadcast of a football game did not come within the area of constitutional guarantees.

Cabot Monday upheld a motion by the National Football League and the City of Miami to dismiss a suit brought by Miami Beach attorney Ellis Rubin, who had charged the NFL with violating the Sherman Anti-Trust Act.

Rubin claimed $115,000 of taxpayers' money spent to promote the game made Dade County and the state of Florida co-sponsors of a private enterprise.

Rubin said the dismissal of his suit did not mean he had given up efforts to lift the blackout.

He said he would go into a state court to ask that spending tax dollars to promote the game be stopped.

After that, he said, he would lay before NFL Commissioner Pete Rozelle a petition bearing the signatures of 40,000 people who asked that the blackout be relaxed.

If Rozelle failed to comply, Rubin said he would organize a South Florida boycott of “every sponsor who buys time” on the Super Bowl broadcast.

Cabot remarked that there might not be a Super Bowl game if the gate receipts were not protected and that the game as a tourist attraction was considered a bargain at the cost.

Rubin said the gate receipts needed no protection because the game was a sellout and only 1,000 tickets were offered for sale to South Florida residents.

PGA Returns Match Play to Tourneys

NEW YORK (AP) — After a hiatus of 14 years, the Professional Golfers Association has returned a match play championship to its tournament trail.

The National Match Play Championship will be played over the 6,973-yard Country Club of North Carolina course at Pinehurst next August with a $32,000 first prize awaiting the winner.

The $200,000 five-day event—first match play tourney scheduled by the PGA since 1957—will State dropped Arkansas 86-77.

Oklahoma State tied the game

71-all on a layup by Tony Kraus with 11 seconds left. Black drove down and was fouled by Mike

Jeffries. Black coolly popped home the coup de grace.

Black scored 24 points to lead all scorers. Kraus led OSU with

Freg Lowery of Texas Tech

nailed a 16-foot jump shot with 21 seconds remaining to tie the score in regulation play 68-all.

A controversial play caused a brief bit of chaos at the final buzzer in regulation time. New

Mexico's Petie Gibson was called for fouling, but officials ruled there was no time left on the clock when it happened.

Willie Long scored 34 points for the Lobos who remained undefeated in seven games.

Tech is now 3-3—like Texas.

Five Aggies scored in double figures — paced by Bill Cooksey's 19 points. A&M gouged out a 43-26 halftime advantage and romped to the easy victory.

Lonnie Massey of Abilene

Christian was the game's high scorer with 20 while Roger Crozier had 17.

Alcindor Is Still Leading in Statistics

NEW YORK (AP) — Lew Alcindor, the Milwaukee Bucks' giant, continued today to lead the National Basketball Association scoring race with a comfortable margin.

Through Sunday's games Alcindor, with a 32.1-point average, had scored 896 points.

Elvin Hayes of San Diego and John Havlicek of Boston were tied for second with 29.8-point averages.

Cincinnati's veteran Johnny Green was the field goal percentage leader at .600 on 192 of 320 while Alcindor was second at .588.

Dick Snyder of Seattle continued to lead in free throw percentage with an .867 mark while Wilt Chamberlain of Los Angeles was tops in rebounding at 19.8 and teammate Jerry West led in assists with a 10.1 mark.

Carty Has a Long List of Injuries

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — National League batting champion Rico Carty is recuperating today from surgery Monday on his fractured left knee. Doctors said the operation was successful.

Carty broke the bone in a collision Friday night in a Dominican League game. He also had a piece of cartilage removed from the knee during the 90-minute surgery.

Dr. Bill Bondurant, an orthopedic specialist, said a cast will remain on the knee for three weeks, at which time a rehabilitation program will start.

Bondurant would not say how long it would take for Carty's leg to heal and permit him to return to baseball.

Carty suffered the injury in a collision with Pittsburgh's Maty Alou in a winter league game in Santo Domingo. It was the latest in a series of physical problems faced by Carty. He has had three shoulder separations and fought successful battle against tuberculosis that sidelined him during the entire 1968 season.

Trevino Has $157,037 for Golf Play

NEW YORK (AP) — It's official. Lee Trevino is the leading money winner of the year in professional golf.

Official PGA statistics released Monday following the completion of the 1970 play-for-pay tour, showed Trevino with earnings of $157,037.

The self-styled Merry Mexican from Texas was also the point leader with 1,533.1. The PGA will use the tournament points to help determine the automatic exemptions for the 1971 tour.

Billy Casper was runnerup in the money category with $147,372 while young Larry Hinson finished second in points with 1,424.6.

Iowa State Hands Hogs Loss No. 5

AMES, Iowa (AP) — Iowa State, fueled by Gene Mack's torrid first half shooting, cruised to an 86-77 non-conference basketball win over Arkansas Monday night.

Mack shot home 9 of 11 first half field goals to help the Cyclones to a 51-39 halftime edge. Mack finished with a game—and career—high of 27 points.

Sophomore Jim Reinebach added 24, Jack DeVilder 12 and Rick Engel 11 for ISU, now 2-3. Almer Lee and Vernon Murphy had 19 each for Arkansas (1-5).

The Razorbacks crept within five points, 72-67, but lost Lee on fouls with 5:51 remaining. Mack hit a free throw and Reinebach added two free throws and a basket to give the Cyclones breathing room.

Iowa State shot 63 per cent in the hot first half and finished the game with a 53 per cent mark, while Arkansas had a 49 per cent reading from the floor.

Arkansas held a 34-33 rebound edge. Leading board men were the Hogs' Bobby Vint and ISU's Bob Moser with nine each.

WORLD ALMANAC FACTS

During a speech at the 1944 Republican National Convention, The World Almanac notes, Herbert Hoover exclaimed: "Older men declare war. But it is youth that must fight and die. And it is youth that must inherit the tribulation, the sorrow and the triumphs that are the aftermath of war."

GOP Governors Want a New Look in 1972

By WALTER R. MEARS
Associated Press Writer
SUN VALLEY, Idaho (AP) — Republican governors, their ranks thinned by election defeats, may try to persuade the White House to adopt a new political look in the 1972 campaign, urging that the GOP put its emphasis on the positive rather than on the attack. But one Republican governor said his colleagues are not likely to stage any political rebellion—in part because so many lame duck governors would like jobs in the administration.

Diverticula Do Not Cause Cancer

By LAWRENCE E. LAMB, M.D.

Dear Dr. Lamb—Will you please tell me about diverticulitis—what causes such a condition and the diet one should be on? Can this develop into cancer?

Dear Reader—A diverticulum is a pouch or pocket protruding from the intestine. Occasionally, diverticula occur in the small intestine but more often they are of the colon. They do not cause cancer.

About five to 10 per cent of people over 40 have diverticula. The pouch is formed when a portion of the wall of the colon weakens and gives way. Apparently, this is the result of prolonged difficulty with spasm of the bowel and uncoordinated, irregular contractions of the colon.

Diverticula sometimes cause severe bleeding into the bowel. In one out of five people with diverticula one or more of them become inflamed. In other people they may never cause any serious problems. (In medicine inflammation is indicated by the ending "itis.") Thus inflammation of the appendix is appendicitis and inflammation of a diverticulum is diverticulitis.

The inflamed diverticulum behaves a great deal like an inflamed appendix. Since diverticula are more often on the left side of the colon, the pain is usually in the left lower side of the abdomen. Sometimes there is an associated mild diarrhea. There may be a fever and, like appendicitis, there is an increase in the number of white blood cells that can be measured by blood count.

If the inflamed diverticulum doesn't develop a hole

There has been speculation that Gov. Raymond P. Shafer of Pennsylvania, chairman of the Republican Governors Association, may wind up in the administration after he leaves office.

Gov. Don Samuelson of Idaho, another lame duck, said he would like an appointment to work on Western states programs for the interior or agriculture departments.

Gov. David F. Cargo of New Mexico said he is going back to the practice of law and is not interested in any administration posts.

About a dozen of the governors planned to meet later today to talk about politics, the 1970 campaign and the future of the party.

Cargo and McCall both said they were concerned about President Nixon's firing of Interior Secretary Walter J. Hickel. Cargo said he intends to protest Hickel's ouster to administration officials.

Vice President Spiro T. Agnew is to address the governors Tuesday evening and confer with them privately over breakfast Wednesday.

Gov. Linwood Holton of Virginia said he would have preferred a more positive tone in 1970 administration campaigning, and added that he thinks his colleagues generally agree.

Rep. Rogers C. B. Morton, who is stepping out as Republican national chairman to succeed Hickel, was to address the governors today.

through the intestinal wall, antibiotics and providing fluids by vein for a few days may be sufficient treatment. A rupture, an abscess or other complications usually require surgery.

Many people who have an irritable colon are told they have diverticula. Spasm of adjacent circular muscle bands in the colon cause the appearance of numerous small pockets of the colon as seen by X-ray studies. The irritable colon also gives rise to crampy abdominal pain.

Unless a complication like inflammation or bleeding occurs, the treatment of diverticula of the colon and irritable or spastic colon is essentially the same. The goal is to decrease spasm of the colon. A good program to train the bowel is necessary. This means regular bowel habits to avoid the constipation problem. It is not necessary to have a daily bowel movement. Plenty of fluids should be taken and the diet should contain food that leaves adequate residue in the bowel—such as cereals and vegetables. Highly seasoned or spicy foods should be avoided. They are irritants and increase spasm of the colon in people with this problem.

Some people with severe problems can benefit from bulk-producing laxatives. All other laxatives should be avoided.

Actress to Try a Second Time

CATHEDRAL CITY, Calif. (AP) — Nancy Sinatra said she chose the date for the wedding because "we decided that since Daddy likes to give things away on his birthday he ought to give me away."

And so on his 55th birthday Saturday Frank Sinatra did. The Roman Catholic ceremony at St. Louis Church near her entertainer father's desert home was the second for both Miss Sinatra, 30, and her husband, Hugh Lambert, 40.

Gambling Raids Made in Arkansas

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Herbert E. Hoxie, special agent in charge of the Little Rock FBI office said Saturday that Hot Springs and Van Buren were among 26 cities in the nation in which federal agents conducted what was termed the largest coordinated anti-gambling raids ever.

Hitting the 26 cities simultaneously, federal agents cracked down Saturday on illegal sports operations. More than half the raids involved illegal professional football betting operations, officials said.

Hoxie said that search warrants were served on Daniel Hardy, 59, and Louis J. Longmott, 58, both of Hot Springs and Buddy Walker, 55, of near Van Buren.

Hoxie said that no arrest was made during the raids, but there were "certain seizures." He said any indictments would come from a U.S. Grand Jury.

The items seized in the raids would be listed today in the office of U.S. Commissioner Sigum Rasmussen of Hot Springs. Hoxie said. Rasmussen issued the search warrants.

U.S. Atty. Gen. John N. Mitchell said federal agents served 160 search warrants in the raids and made 27 arrests.

There is nothing complicated about the play of today's hand. North and South can make three no-trump. If South gets a club lead, he probably will run off the first 10 tricks.

There is also nothing complicated about the bidding if you play JACOBY MODERN. It is shown in the box. South has a sound one-spade opening. Fourteen high-card points and a five-card suit. It isn't anything to rave about, but it is one point more than a minimum.

North's hand just reaches the minimum for a two-heart response. He has 11 points, of which nine are high cards.

So far, the bidding has gone exactly as it would in standard American. JACOBY MODERN and standard American are basically the same system.

When it comes to South's rebid, the systems diverge. In standard American, you still need more than 14 high-card points for the two no-trump rebid. This is a hang-over from the old days, when the two-over-one response might be made with just seven or eight points. Standard American has followed expert procedure, so that this response shows the same minimum values as it does in JACOBY MODERN. However, it has failed to change all subsequent bids.

So, in standard American, South would rebid two spades, play the hand there and either make his contract or go down one, depending on how the play went. How does North find his raise to three no-trump in JACOBY MODERN? It is common sense. We play any rebid after two-over-one except two of our own suit is a one-round force. North has to rebid. His hand is suitable for no-trump play and he rebids three no-trump.

Incentive Grant Lost to Arkansas

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — An official of the state Education Department said Monday that Arkansas would not receive "incentive" grant money under Title I of the Elementary and Secondary Education Act.

B. G. Williams, associate education commissioner for federal programs, said the state would not receive the money because Arkansas spends a lower percentage of its per capita income on education than the national average.

Williams said the national average was 4.02 per cent and the Arkansas average is 3.86 per cent.

The "incentive" money is granted for enrichment and innovation programs under the Title I program, which is designed to help disadvantaged pupils.

Sees White House Victory on Cambodia

By CARL P. LEUBSDORF
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — With word from a key House leader that a compromise is possible, antiwar senators are predicting victory and a White House blessing in their bid to restrict use of U.S. aid to Cambodia.

A new version of the restrictive amendment was attached by the Senate Foreign Relations Committee Monday to the Nixon administration's request for $225 million in new aid to Cambodia.

In a related development, the Senate scheduled a vote today on a bill authorizing $550 million in supplemental foreign aid, including the funds for Cambodia.

A separate bill actually appropriating the aid swept through the Senate by an 83-0 vote, but with the provision the money could not be spent until authorized by the bill considered today.

The new amendment restricting U.S. aid use in Cambodia, sponsored by Sens. John Sherman Cooper, R-Ky., and Frank Church, D-Idaho, bars American combat ground troops and military advisers from the Southeast Asian nation. It specifies U.S. aid "shall not be construed as a commitment by the United States to Cambodia for its defense."

Dropped from an earlier amendment—which was unacceptable to the House—were provisions barring funds to underwrite aid efforts in Cambodia by other nations and prohibiting U.S. air actions in direct support of Cambodian forces.

"Indications are that the administration is now prepared to accept this ...," Church told newsmen. "I think this time we will make it stick."

Cooper agreed. "I can't say they approve it. But I think there is no opposition to it."

And Rep. Thomas E. Morgan, D-Pa., chairman of the House Foreign Affairs Committee, said "we might be in the area of compromise," since the new amendment is different from the earlier version.

The Foreign Relations Committee gave unanimous approval to the amendment, and to another one requiring 30 days' notice to Congress—10 days in event of an emergency—if defense and aid funds are transferred to Cambodia.

Chill Wills on 'Fame Walk'

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Veteran western actor Chill Wills, 69, has achieved a star in Hollywood Boulevard's sidewalk.

The two-foot, brass-outlined star is one of 1,600 implanted since 1953 along Hollywood Boulevard and Vine Street by civic boosters to create a "walk of fame." Each contains in brass the name of an entertainment celebrity, past or present.

Chill's unveiled Monday in front of Grauman's Chinese Theater, is next to the late Basil Rathbone's and near the late Dick Powell's.

He made his movie debut in "Boom Town," a 1939 film starring Clark Gable and Spencer Tracy, and later was the voice of Francis, the movies' talking mule. He was nominated for an Oscar in "The Alamo."

Wants SS Bill Ahead of Trade Issue

By JOE HALL
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — Backers of President Nixon's welfare reform plan searched today for a way to get a Senate floor vote on the proposal ahead of action on a bitterly controversial quota-setting foreign trade measure.

Both are being considered as riders on a mammoth Social Security bill on which Majority Leader Mike Mansfield said floor debate could begin this afternoon.

Supporters of Nixon's family assistance plan for revamping the welfare system wanted it considered first because a filibuster is threatened against the trade rider. Advocates of the welfare plan fear the talkathon would cause such a long delay their bill would be shelved.

With Congress pushing toward adjournment, several key senators are saying privately none of the riders attached to the Social Security bill will be passed. However, they predict the Social Security increases will be approved.

The Senate Finance Committee has approved a 10 per cent increase in Social Security benefits with a $100-a-month minimum individual payment. The House voted a 5 per cent hike effective Jan. 1.

Supporters of the family plan lost a round Monday when the Finance Committee, dominated by supporters of the trade rider, filed its bill and report with the Senate.

The trade provision was placed ahead of the welfare section and, under normal procedure, would be voted on first.

Sen. Abraham A. Ribicoff, D-Conn., a principal sponsor of the welfare amendment, told a reporter he was surprised at this development. But he said he was still searching for a parliamentary way to get his proposal considered before the trade bill.

Ribicoff said he is encouraged at prospects for his amendment by the addition, with administration backing, of another provision.

This would guarantee each state, starting in 1971, at least a 10 per cent saving on welfare expenditures.

The present formulas require wealthy states to pay about 50 per cent of welfare costs, poor states about 20 per cent.

The new clause provides that the states would have to pay only 90 per cent of what they normally would provide in 1971.

The second county-wide Youth Careers Day held at Hope was a success. Two hundred seventy-two high school seniors participated in the day long activity. 250 Feared Dead in Korea Ferry Sinking SEOUL (AP) — More than 250 South Koreans were feared drowned today in the sinking of a ferryboat in the Korea Strait. The Namyung Ho, with 256 passengers and 20 crewmen aboard, went down on its 14-hour run between Cheju Island, south of the Korean peninsula, and the southern Korean port of Pusan.

Japanese ships picked up eight survivors, and a Korean police patrol boat picked up three others. A Korean fishing vessel reported picking up a 12th survivor who was taken to a hospital in Pusan.

A Korean police plane reported sighting two persons clinging to debris, and a Korean police officer who flew over the area said he saw oil slicks and floating wood.

Maritime authorities said they feared most of the boat's occupants had perished, however, because the rescue operation was delayed and the weather was very cold.

Transportation Ministry officials said they believed the boat sank because she was overloaded. In addition to the 276 persons aboard, they said, the 263-ton vessel carried about 250 tons of cargo.

Police said a preliminary investigation indicated that the ship had also left Cheju Island without the skipper aboard.

Offshore Oil Lease Bids to Be Opened

By BILL CRIDER
Associated Press Writer
NEW ORLEANS (AP) — The Interior Department opens bids today in an offshore oil lease sale delayed two years by concern over pollution from oil wells drilled in the sea bottom. Petroleum companies hoping to develop rich offshore oil and gas fields have turned in bids on 127 tracts off Louisiana's western coast, some of them 115 miles from land in water 500 feet deep.

Estimates of how much the sale will put in federal coffers have ranged from $200 million, based on the tight money situation, to $1 billion.

The department's decisions on which bids will be accepted on the tracts, scattered over 1,500 square miles of the Gulf of Mexico, will be announced Wednesday.

All the tracts up for lease were "nominated" by oil companies after seismic testing. The sale is the first involving new offshore leases since public reaction to massive oil pollution involved in offshore accidents over the past two years.

First came the 1969 oil well leak that fouled Santa Barbara beaches in California. Then wells on a platform in the Gulf caught fire last February and gushed thousands of barrels of oil into the sea before they were capped in March.

Both incidents delayed the Louisiana offshore lease sale.

Today's sale was ordered to proceed on schedule despite a new offshore platform fire burning 10 miles off the coast south of New Orleans since Dec. 1.

"The thinking is that you don't ban automobiles just because there is a collision," an Interior Department spokesman said in Washington. "We knew accidents would happen."

The decision was backed by an Interior Department public hearing which reported "leasing and development should continue if the United States is to avert a major national energy crisis and make progress toward retarding air pollution."

Natural gas wells predominate in the western half of Louisiana's offshore oil area—a factor which contributed to the decision to resume leasing, since gas wells have few pollution problems.

As owner of 119 tracts, the federal government gets the lease money they bring in. Eight tracts lie in a region where the state also claims ownership and who gets the money will be decided in court.

The government owner also draws royalties on one sixth of well production. The leases are for as long as the wells produce.

Most of the lease area is south of Cameron, La., a small town near the Texas border.

Witnesses Say Medina Gave Death Order

By HARRY F. ROSENTHAL
Associated Press Writer
FT. BENNING, Ga. (AP) — One after another, witnesses called by Lt. William Calley Jr. say they thought his company commander, Capt. Ernest Medina, had pronounced death on My Lai village.

Five witnesses at the lieutenant's court-martial on murder charges testified Monday the captain set the scenario for the March 16, 1968 assault when he gathered Charlie Company around him the day before.

"We were told that we were going to the My Lai, Pinkville, area—going out on a search-and-destroy mission, that we could expect one or more enemy battalions," said S.Sgt. Martin Fagan of Ft. Hood, Tex., who was still on the stand when the Monday session ended.

"My impression was that anyone remaining in the village, regardless whether they were men, women and children, were to be killed," Fagan said.

"He said we were going to Pinkville," said S.Sgt. L. G. Bacon, one of Calley's former squad leaders, an Army veteran now stationed at Ft. Campbell, Ky. "He said we were going to where the 48th Viet Cong battalion was and we were to kill all Viet Cong, all Viet Cong suspects, all NVA (North Vietnamese army) and all NVA suspects, destroy all food sources, kill all animals and burn the village."

Pinkville, a name born from its shade on military maps, was the My Lai area.

"To me that meant women and children and everything else," said Elmer Haywood of Baytown, Tex. "Viet Cong sympathizers can be any of these ... my impression was they were all to be killed."

And said Gene R. Oliver Jr. of Cincinnati, Ohio: "Destroy—that was the word. We were supposed to level that place."

The defense hopes to show that Calley, who is charged with the murder of 102 civilians, was obeying orders from a superior.

Medina has been charged with over-all responsibility for civilian deaths at My Lai and is undergoing Army investigation to determine if he should be tried. Last December he told a news conference at the Pentagon:

"I did not order any massacre at My Lai 4. I had initially given

He was asked whether he ordered the shooting stopped.

"I received an order from the Task Force S-3 (operations) telling me that to make sure there weren't any innocent civilians, any women and children being killed there. I put this information out over the company command net and it was given to the platoon leaders over the company command net."

Calley was the leader of Medina's first platoon, which charged through the center of My Lai. A member of the third platoon, which entered the village last night, Medina's cease-fire order was given about noon.

Prosecution witnesses indicated all the killing had been carried out before then.

Ship Hijacker Wants Trial in the U.S.

PHNOM PENH (AP) — "I only regret I didn't sink the ship," one of the hijackers of a U.S. ammunition freighter said today as he walked into the American Embassy in Phnom Penh to surrender.

"I still believe in the revolution in America and in the revolution in Cambodia," Alvin L. Glatowski, 20, of Long Beach, Calif., told newsmen. But he said he felt he would get a fairer deal in the United States than in Cambodia.

Glatowski and Clyde W. McKay, 25, of Escondido, Calif., took over the 10,000-ton Columbia Eagle in the Gulf of Thailand last March and forced the crew into the Cambodian port of Kompong Som. They have been indicted by a federal grand jury in Los Angeles on charges of mutiny on the high seas, assault, transporting kidnapped persons in foreign commerce, and neglect of duty. They could get the death penalty on the mutiny charge.

The ship and the rest of its crew were released and completed the voyage to Thailand. McKay got away from a Cambodian guard in a Phnom Penh restaurant in October and disappeared with an American deserter from Thailand. Glatowski said then he believed they were headed for the town of Siem Reap to join Communist forces fighting in Cambodia.

Glatowski said two days ago that he was thinking of doing the same thing himself because "it's either that or stay here and rot."

Glatowski and McKay were kept on a prison boat on the Mekong River for a few weeks after the hijacking. They complained about the conditions there and were put in the servants' quarters of a government guest house in Phnom Penh and then in a hotel.

The Cambodian government paid their hotel bills, and they technically had political asylum. But they were actually under a form of arrest, free to move about in the city but always escorted by Cambodian guards.

Glatowski walked into the Embassy and told Robert Blackburn, a political officer, that he wanted to give himself up.

"Fine. Come in," Blackburn said.

Bumpers Has Named Seven to His Staff

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Gov.-elect Dale Bumpers named a staff of seven, six of them lawyers, Monday without springing any surprises.

Eugene T. Kelley, 31, of Rogers was named executive secretary for Bumpers.

All of the men named to the governor-elect's staff were relatively young.

The appointees were, besides Kelley: —Archie "Spike" Schaffer III, 23, of Charleston, appointments secretary.

—Pat Moran, 36, of Little Rock, liaison with the House of Representatives.

—Martin Borchert, 54, of Little Rock, liaison with the Senate.

—Bradley D. Jesson, 38, of Fort Smith, legislative secretary.

—Charles D. Matthews, 31, of North Little Rock, an assistant to Jesson.

—Ben Allen, 45, of Little Rock, an assistant to Bumpers.

Bumpers, who is 45, will ask the legislature for appropriations for the legislative liaison appointees. Legislative appropriations have been provided in the past for the positions of executive secretary and legislative secretary. Matthews, former state chairman of the Democratic party, and Allen, a state senator, apparently did not occupy permanent positions.

Bumpers said two other positions on his personal staff will be announced later when he selects the individuals to fill them.

Schaffer, a nephew of Bumpers, is the one who is not a lawyer.

Pytheas, a Greek, is believed to have crossed the Arctic Circle as early as 325 B.C.

Urges Release of All Sick Enemy POWs

By JAMES PHILLIPS
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Robert P. Griffin, the Senate's No. 2 Republican leader, today urged the release of all sick and wounded enemy prisoners of war as well as 1,500 able-bodied captured North Vietnamese troops in hopes of securing freedom for American POWs.

"Such a dramatic, humanitarian initiative would create, worldwide, an expectation of response in kind by the Communist side," said the Michigan Republican.

Griffin made the appeal in a speech prepared for delivery in the Senate today.

Griffin said he expects the proposal to receive a sympathetic response from the Nixon administration, but emphasized he was making the proposal as a senator—not as assistant Republican leader.

"I would suggest that the prisoners be released well before Tet, the Vietnamese New Year, which comes at the end of January," he said.

Griffin conferred last month with Mai Van Bo of the North Vietnamese Paris delegation in an effort to secure better treatment of American POWs and a list of their names. However, he said he has received no response from Bo.

About 1,500 men are listed as missing in action in Southeast Asia. Pentagon officials say 459 Americans are believed held captive by the North Vietnamese.

The South Vietnamese hold an estimated 8,200 North Vietnamese prisoners.

Griffin said the United States "should ask an impartial organization, like the International Red Cross, to interview the North Vietnamese and determine which men wish to return."

"I do not advocate forced repatriation," he said.

Won't Change Restraining Order

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — John Norman Warnock, attorney for the Watson Chapel School District, said Monday that Federal Judge J. Smith Henley refused to overrule a temporary restraining order preventing a special school election that was scheduled for today.

Warnock appealed an injunction issued by U.S. District Judge Oren Harris stopping a special election to decide if the Watson Chapel district was to be separated from the predominantly Negro Coleman area. The election had been called by petition.

Harris issued the temporary injunction after four Negro residents of the Coleman area had filed suit saying the election was an attempt to avoid the unification of the Watson Chapel schools.

Warnock said that Henley told him he could not overrule the temporary restraining order, even though an earlier decision on the case is being appealed in the 8th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals in St. Louis.

Warnock said he also tried unsuccessfully earlier Monday in an attempt to get the 8th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals to lift the restriction.

Christmas Shopping Is One of the Ordeals of Modern Living

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP) — One of the ordeals of modern living is Christmas shopping.

Women complain about it the most, but actually dislike it the least. Buying anything gives a woman a secret pleasure—even though she knows it will go to someone else. And she is consoled also in the knowledge that whoever gets the gift probably won't enjoy it too much anyway, because she'll have to exchange it for something else.

Christmas shopping to a man is a sudden experience in silent martyrdom. To him the whole seasonal orgy is for women, children and the birds. He is convinced that Santa Claus is only the front man for a gigantic international conspiracy against his pocketbook.

Shopping is easiest for the child. All he has to do is to write a long list of things he wants and mail it to the North Pole. If on Christmas morning he doesn't find everything he asked for under the tree in the living room, his parents can always tell him:

"You must forgive Santa, dear. He's getting old and senile. He's so busy that sometimes things slip his mind. Next year he'll probably bring more than you ask for."

This doesn't really fool the child, of course. It merely confirms his suspicion—a suspicion fostered by older children—that Santa Claus is only his parents, because his parents are always fouling up his life and neglecting him.

State Police said they were still searching for the hit-and-run driver early today.

Bumpers Sees $26 Million in Cutbacks

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Gov.-elect Dale Bumpers said Monday that proposed budgets of state agencies would be cut back at least $26 million to get within projected revenues.

Bumpers told a news conference here that he had decided on some specific curtailments in budget requests, but had not yet informed the agencies in which the cuts would be made.

He declined to be specific when asked that curtailments he had decided upon, and he declined also to say what total savings could be expected as a result of the proposed reductions in sums requested by the agencies.

Bumpers said he had not yet received any resistance to the cuts, adding, "We've not given them the unhappy news yet."

He said he was still studying budgets and possible reorganization of some agencies.

He said that some agencies were performing services that were not necessary.

The governor-elect said the Administration Department anticipates revenues in the coming fiscal year will total $260 million, which is $26 million less than state agencies have requested merely to continue existing programs.

Man Killed in Accident Near Hope

Lalar Adams, 72-year-old Negro resident of Washington Rt. 1, was killed about mid-morning Tuesday in a two-car collision at the junction of Interstate 30 and Highway 4 just northwest of the Hope City limits.

Adams was pronounced dead at the scene by Deputy Coroner Rufus Herndon Jr.

According to State Trooper Wallace Martin an auto driven by Wayne R. Kottke of Hamburg, Wisconsin came off the I-30 ramp onto Highway 4, crossed the center lane and struck the Adams vehicle. Kottke and a passenger, Randall V. Weller, also of Wisconsin, were not seriously injured. Both vehicles were badly damaged.

Trooper Martin indicated charges would be filed against the driver of the Wisconsin car pending completion of the investigation. Aiding in the investigation were State Trooper Bobby Neel and City Policemen Richard Rowe and Jesse Brown.

Naming Connally Seen as Political Move to Blunt Demo Criticism

By BILL NEIKIRK

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon has tapped former Texas Gov. John B. Connally as his new Treasury secretary in what is seen as a political move to blunt Democratic criticism of the administration's economic policies.

With the economy looming as a major issue in the 1972 presidential campaign, Nixon coupled announcement of Connally's appointment Monday with a call for a bipartisan approach to the nation's economic troubles.

A conservative Democrat and three-time governor of Texas, Connally brings a political and legal background to the Treasury job, normally filled by bankers, and gives the administration a stronger voice in dealing with Congress.

David M. Kennedy, the 65-year-old Chicago banker who held the Treasury post for two years, resigned effective Feb. 1 to make room for Connally. Nixon named Kennedy an ambassador-at-large in the State Department, with Cabinet seat and responsibility in international finance.

Administration sources said Connally, secretary of the Navy under former President John F. Kennedy, will be counted on to

Compromise Approval of $210 Million for SST Program Expected

By JOHN STOWELL
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate critics of the supersonic transport revised their strategy today as the House prepared to vote on a scaled-down appropriation for the 1,800-mile-an-hour passenger plane.

House approval of a compromise $210 million for SST development was expected by about the same margin as the 213-174 vote last week for a full $290 million.

The vote had been scheduled Monday, but was set back a day because House members had to leave for a White House reception.

The Senate, which rejected any funds for the SST two weeks ago, is not expected to vote on the compromise before Wednesday.

Meanwhile, the two Wisconsin Democrats who led the 52-41 Senate defeat of the original measure offered a proposal to assure quick consideration of the $2.6-billion transportation bill, which includes the SST, by separating the proposal from the supersonic plane provision.

Sens. William Proxmire and Gaylord Nelson said they would be happy to let the main bill go through this month and vote on the SST money when the new Congress convenes in January.

Their move was believed prompted by the fear some anti-SST votes may be lost in the Senate as concern grows that time may run out on the major money package for highways, mass transit and other transportation programs.

Proxmire and Nelson have signed up at least eight speakers to filibuster against the SST, among them Sen. Sam J. Ervin, D-N.C., a veteran talker on civil rights and other legislation.

Charges that high-flying SSTs would pollute the environment and be an economic white elephant have been met by warnings that curtailment of the program would put 150,000 persons out of work and make America an also-ran in world aviation.

President Nixon has thrown his weight behind the SST program, claiming that without it the United States would be forfeiting the supersonic race to Britain, France and the Soviet Union, who are developing their own versions.

SAIGON (AP)—A U.S. Navy courier plane has crashed shortly after being launched from the carrier Ranger in the Tonkin gulf. All 10 persons aboard are feared dead.

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon has tapped former Texas governor John B. Connally, a Democrat, as his new Treasury secretary following the resignation, effective Feb. 1, of David M. Kennedy from the post. Nixon named Kennedy an ambassador-at-large in the State Department, with Cabinet seat and responsibility in international finance.

SUN VALLEY, Idaho (AP) — Republican governors, all of them surprised and some dismayed at the appointment of John B. Connally to head the Treasury Department, meet today with Vice President Spiro T. Agnew to discuss their political complaints.

WASHINGTON (AP) — With the House preparing to take a delayed vote on a scaled-down appropriation for the supersonic transport, Senate critics of the SST have proposed that the SST question be separated from the rest of the $2.6-billion transportation bill to allow quick passage of the main bill's other provisions.

WASHINGTON (AP) — U.S. military intelligence reports that the Soviet Union is increasing its supply of military pilots in a move linked chiefly to tensions between Russia and Red China.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Scientists from America and the Soviet Union report that they have developed, through separate research, a promising experimental one-shot vaccine against common measles, mumps and German measles.

Buffalo Park Bill Delayed by Aspinall

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Wilbur Mills, D-Ark., says that any chance the House might act on the bill to make the Buffalo River a national park area has apparently been killed by the continuing absence of Rep. Wayne Aspinall, D-Colo.

The bill has already been approved by the Senate but Congress is expected to adjourn next week.

Mills said that Aspinall had not returned since Congress recessed for the November election campaign.

The House Interior and Insular Affairs Committee — which Aspinall heads and in which the bill has stayed since its passage last year by the Senate — will not report out any legislation in his absence.

Skies Expected to Clear by Wednesday

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Skies are expected to begin clearing across Arkansas tonight with generally fair skies forecast for Wednesday.

Rain began early today in the extreme southwest portion of the state and two hours later precipitation covered most of the southwest half of the state. The rain was expected to spread across the state today and end from the west tonight.

Some sleet mixed with rain was reported in the central section of the state but no accumulation of sleet was expected.

An increase in southerly winds produced the moisture. Little temperature change is expected through Wednesday with highs today in the 50s and low 60s and highs Wednesday in the 50s.

Lows forecast tonight are in the 30s northwest and 40s elsewhere.

Plane Crash Fatal to 6 Americans

By GEORGE ESPER

SAIGON (AP) — A U.S. Navy courier plane crashed today shortly after it was launched from the carrier Ranger in the Tonkin gulf, and the six Americans and four Filipinos aboard were feared killed.

A spokesman said two bodies had been recovered, and there were no signs of survivors.

First reports said all aboard were Americans, but later the Navy announced that four of the passengers were Filipino repairmen employed by the Navy in the Philippines.

The plane, a twin-engine, prop-driven C2A Greyhound, was on its way back to its base at the Cubi Point Naval Air Station in the Philippines with six passengers and four crewmen.

It was delivering mail and personnel from ship to shore and "went down shortly after normal catapult launch," the Navy said.

Ships and helicopters of the carrier task force in the Tonkin gulf were making an extensive search.

Meanwhile, South Vietnamese headquarters reported two grenades ripped through a crowd praying in a Buddhist temple in the Mekong Delta Monday night, killing 17 Vietnamese and wounding 87.

It was the second successive night grenades had taken a high toll in the Delta. On Sunday night a grenade killed 13 Vietnamese and wounded 50 in a crowd of villagers watching the community television set.

The government said Viet Cong terrorists hurled two grenades into the temple at Long Trung, 44 miles southwest of Saigon. But officers in the field said they were still investigating.

The government also blamed the Viet Cong for the grenade explosion Sunday night 65 miles southwest of Saigon. But officers in the field said that grenade apparently slipped off the belt of a South Vietnamese soldier who was drunk. The soldier was killed.

The U.S. Command belatedly disclosed two incidents last Saturday in which seven Americans were killed and two wounded.

In one, an eight-man infantry patrol got into an old American mine field just south of the demilitarized zone in the dark Saturday night, and six of the men were killed and the other two wounded. The patrol was from the 1st Brigade, 5th Mechanized Infantry Division.

On Saturday morning, an Air Force F4 Phantom fighter-bomber was hit by ground fire over the Plain of Jars in Laos.

Informed sources told AP Correspondent Michael Putzel that the canopy of the plane flew off, one of the two crewmen parachuted into the jungle, and enemy troops killed him. They said the other flier flew the plane back to a base in Thailand and landed unhurt.

A U.S. spokesman gave a somewhat different account, saying the plane took minor damage and "the navigator in the back seat ejected. A Jolly Green Giant rescue helicopter picked up the downed navigator the same day. He was dead on arrival at the base where he was returned."
